TAIWAN ACADEMY OF
BANKING AND FINANCE

台灣金融研訓院

The Taiwan Academy of Banking and Finance (TABF) is the foremost non-profit institution serving Taiwan's banking industry, and a trusted platform promoting the development and advancement of Taiwan's financial services. Advised by the Financial Supervisory Commission (FSC), it was established in 2000 through the merger of the Banking Institute of the Republic of China (BIROC) and the Banking and Finance Institute (BFI), and remains committed to fostering a modern, resilient, and inclusive financial system for a changing world.

TABF brings together stakeholders across the industry to provide opportunities for talent development, knowledge sharing, and networking. Working closely with both domestic and international partners, TABF provides customized and innovative financial training and certification solutions for the banking sector. Furthermore, it has also been working to improve the financial wellness of the public through financial literacy education, aiming to shape a banking sector that serves all of society.

In a nutshell, TABF is a unique and comprehensive platform committed to fostering a sustainable and inclusive banking industry, making it an essential organization in Taiwan and a valuable partner for the global financial community.

FINANCIAL TALENT DEVELOPMENT

TABF serves as a cradle nurturing professional talent for Taiwan's financial industry.

Our courses are built on a training framework and are categorized into ten major domains. Through detailed research and investigation, we have identified the key competencies for various core positions. These competencies are incorporated into job descriptions and skills requirements for different hierarchical levels.

Through these efforts, TABF is helping bring a brighter future to Taiwan's financial industry and promoting cooperation among stakeholders to foster innovation and advancement in the industry.

FINANCIAL INCLUSION

Besides professional training, TABF also strives for financial inclusion, reaching an average of 24,389 participants each year through approximately 800 public education sessions.

Financial education should not only promote financial knowledge, but also emphasize long-term skills development. The ability to change financial attitudes and develop correct financial management principles are important indicators of the effectiveness of financial education.

Therefore, TABF advocates for diverse teaching methods tailored to different audiences, utilizing modular and systematic knowledge structures, developing different teaching tools, producing videos on finance to expand dissemination of knowledge, and integrating behavior tracking in some courses.

FINANCIAL EXPLORER 62

Under the direction of the FSC, TABF created Taiwan's first museum of finance. Completed in late 2022, the name Financial Explorer 62 reflects the fusion of the financial sector's spirit of exploration and TABF's training base. FE62's historical collection and a variety of media display the trajectory and achievements of Taiwanese finance. Moreover, interactive programs simulating financial planning help to broaden audiences' financial horizons and build proper attitudes towards finance.

INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

A BRIDGE FOSTERING LINKS BETWEEN TAIWAN AND INTERNATIONAL FINANCE.

• JOINT TRAINING/FORUMS

TABF collaborates with international organizations and institutions to design joint training programs and forums encompassing a variety of topics relevant to banking and finance. Whether in-person or remote, these initiatives unite professionals, experts, practitioners, and academics from around the world to exchange insights and knowledge on diverse topics.

• INTERNATIONAL FIELD TRIPS/VISITS

TABF leads professionals from the government, industry, and academia on outbound visits, and hosts visiting delegations from around the world, providing them with tailored training courses.

• MAGAZINE ARTICLE COLLABORATION

TABF actively collaborate with international organizations and stakeholders such as country offices in Taipei, overseas banking counterparts, leading businesses in the financial sector, as well as expert practitioners, as interviewees or authors for our prestigious in-house Taiwan Banker magazine.
